Life's a competition.

Every day of your life is filled with a series of competitions. Sometimes you compete with others, sometimes you compete with yourself, often you'll find yourself competing with the sheer inertia of life. Choice A or option B, this fun thing versus that commitment. Your whole world vies for your limited time and energy. And your adrenal gland keeps score.

You know you're winning when your heartbeat feels like a kettle drum pounding out a tempo to your experiences. And for 40 years MasterCraft boats have served as the inspiration for countless overactive adrenal glands. In 1968, our obsession to compete at a higher level guided the development of Hull #1. And that very same affinity for the thrill of competitive achievement guides everything we do today.

But if you're going to get noticed, make sure it's for the right reasons. Like your uncanny ability to monopolize all the fun that fits into a weekend. Or more specifically, what the incredible X-35 can do for you.

Wakeboard, wakeskate, wake surf, cruise, ski, invent a new sport, the X-35 is designed to put you in the spotlight with an array of other impressive standard features and amenities that definitely help you rise above it all. Life's a competition.

A brisk mid-day chop laps against the hull sounding like rounds of applause, as if the waves were congratulating you for your escape from the regular world. After all, to share the magic of the water with family and friends is no small victory in the game of life. There is an endless schedule of opposition to your freedom. Appointments, itineraries, duties. Maintaining a much-envied home, career, mind and body. Life is an ongoing competition between day-to-day necessities and the experience of feeling truly alive.

MasterCraft understands how it feels to compete, and we know the sweetness of victory. Four decades ago the competitive desire to usher in a new era in ski performance created Hull #1. And that very same unyielding passion to win still guides everything tattooed with the MasterCraft name.

The latest embodiments of our competitive drive are the much-anticipated MariStar 230 and 235. Each model is distinct, and yet each shares certain inescapable MasterCraft attributes. Plush seating for everyone and then some. Rich appointments, amenities and technologies. Breathtaking performance at any speed, in any turn, for any watersports pursuit. Plus, each has mastered the elusive ability to transport you from the routine of the day-to-day to an unequalled state of being with family and friends.

Some pictures in this brochure show optional equipment and/or colors. Because of our ongoing commitment to product quality and innovation, we reserve the right to change or discontinue any specifications, construction, designs, features, models or equipment without notice or obligation. Weights and volumes are estimates, and can vary from boat to boat because of equipment differences. Powerhead horsepower may differ from crankshaft horsepower. All boats conform to U.S. Coast Guard and NMMA safety standards. We recommend that you and other users of your boat take approved boating safety courses and understand operating features, care, and safety precautions prior to use of boat. These courses are available through the U.S. Coast Guard, Power Squadron, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, and state and local enforcement agencies. Smart boat users know that using their boat responsibly and safely is always more fun. Each boat is sold with an Owner's Manual as standard equipment. This brochure features professional boat operators performing under ideal or controlled marine conditions. Do not attempt any of these maneuvers if they are beyond the level of your ability and your understanding with respect to the performance of your boat. Observe applicable local boating laws and regulations, and carefully read and follow all instructions in your Owner's Manual and on warning labels. Always carry on board the necessary safety equipment and the appropriate protective clothing, including U.S. Coast Guard Approved personal floatation devices, which should always be worn both around and on the water. Always use a ski mirror. Keep a safe distance from others and use common sense. Always boat responsibly and respect the rights of others. Please remember never to drink and drive. Do not be on or near the boating platform when the engine is running. Carbon monoxide from exhaust pipes of inboard or outboard engines may build up inside and outside the boat in areas near exhaust vents. STAY AWAY from these exhaust vent areas, which are located at the stern of the boat, and DO NOT swim or engage in any watersports or other activities in or near the stern area of the boat, including, without limitation, the swim platform and the rear sundeck, when the engine is in operation. Under no circumstances should "teak surfing" or similar activities be performed during the operation of your MasterCraft boat - such activities are a misuse of MasterCraft products.
